DEACON

Rev. Mr. Berkley
Guthro

Today's reading from Matthew's Gospel comes after a discourse in which Jesus reproaches people who have witnessed his mighty deeds yet still lack belief. In this context, today's Gospel explains the reason for this unbelief and reveals what is necessary for faith. It continues to enhance our understanding of discipleship. Jesus first prays in thanksgiving to God who has made himself known to Jesus' disciples. He praises God who has made himself known to the "little ones" and not to the wise and learned. As in other recent readings from Matthew's Gospel, a contrast is made here between the unbelieving Pharisees, who are wise and learned, and the faithful disciples, tax collectors, and sinners with whom Jesus keeps company. The second part of this reading calls to our attention the unity between the Father and the Son. God has made himself known through Jesus, and in knowing Jesus, we come to know the Father. In Jesus' life and in his person, God reveals himself to us. In the concluding sentences of today's Gospel, Jesus' teaching is again contrasted to the teaching of the Pharisees. This common theme of Matthew's Gospel probably reflects tension that existed between Jesus and the Pharisees and between the Pharisees and the community of Christians for whom Matthew wrote. Pharisaic Judaism became the predominant form of Judaism after the destruction of the Temple in Jerusalem about 70 A.D. Here that tension is expressed as alternative paths of holiness. The careful observance of the Mosaic law taught by the Pharisees could be experienced by some as difficult and burdensome. In contrast, Jesus' way of holiness is presented as uncomplicated and even restful. Used with permission from Loyola Press

Caring for Our Cemetery - more regular volunteers needed

Ongoing groundskeeping of both cemeteries and church properties from June - October. Mowing grass, whipper snipping, weeding flower beds and supporting the grounds beautification while maintaining a respectful, welcoming environment. No mandatory commitment, no set hours, contribute your time when your schedule permits.

No experience needed, just a love of working outside.

Questions? Interested in volunteering? Please call or text Gelas 902-227-8625 or Karen 902-625-1006.

Whether you volunteer for a day or the summer this is a great opportunity to connect with others, enjoy the fresh air, and make a visible impact.
